

Our nursery operations do not use any pre-treatment of neonicotinoids for growing and maintaining our plants. We simply use seed and water in soil. Many of our plants are pollinator-attractant California native plants. We strive for local ecology restoration.