

Stand With Us Hillary

May 21, 2014
Madame Secretary,

Millions of Americans from coast to coast are deeply concerned about the climate crisis and the prospect of the Keystone XL pipeline being built.

If this pipeline is approved, it will be the equivalent of building 46 new coal-fired power plants. If we're going to have a livable planet for future generations — one that's not fraught with floods, droughts, deadly heat waves and other catastrophic effects — it's vital that we reject the polluting fossil fuels of the past and move to cleaner, safer energy sources.

Secretary Clinton, will you stand with us against Keystone XL?

Given your longstanding advocacy for the environment and the importance of battling the climate crisis, your involvement would lend an important voice to the struggle against this dangerous pipeline and in favor of energy sources that don't threaten future generations of Americans.

We're at a critical moment. Please join us.

Sincerely,

350.org, May Boeve
Center for Biological Diversity, Kieran Suckling
Center for Food Safety, George Kimbrell
Center for International Environmental Law, Wm. Carroll Muffett
Chesapeake Climate Action Network, Mike Tidwell
Climate Action Liaison Committee, Quinton Zonderuan
CREDO, Michael Kieschnick
Desert Protective Council, Terry Weiner
Earthworks, Jennifer Krill
Endangered Species Coalition, Leda Huta
Energy Action Coalition, Kendall Mackey
Environmental Protection Information Center, Gary Graham Hughes
Food and Water Watch, Wenonah Hauter
Friends of the Earth, Erich Pica
Friends of the Owls, Peter Galvin
Friends of Whitehaven Park, William Snape
Greenpeace, Phil Radford
Kids vs. Global Warming/i Matter, Victoria Looz
Klamath Forest Alliance, Kimberly Baker
Moms Clean Air Force, Dominique Browning
New Energy Economy, Mariel Nanasi
North County Watch, Susan Harvey
Oil Change International, Steve Kretzmann
Olympic Climate Action, Ed Chadd

Safe Climate Campaign, Dan Becker
Sheep Mountain Alliance, Hilary Cooper
Southern Alliance for Clean Energy, Stephen Smith
Southern Oregon Climate Action Now, Alan Journet
Sustain US, Leslye Penticoff and Matt Maiorana
Western Nebraska Resources Council, Santana Tamarak